Tribal Spy Wins Las Cienegas

California-bred Tribal Spy benefitted from a fast pace to come rolling late and win Saturday's grade III, $100,000 Las Cienegas Stakes by a head under Joe Talamo, covering the about 6 1/2 furlongs down Santa Anita Park's hillside turf course in 1:12.12.

With 7-5 favorite Biorhythm and 5-2 second choice Sky High Gal slugging it out through splits of :21.58, :43.02 and 1:05.86, Talamo sat a comfortable third aboard the Adam Kitchingman-trained daughter of Ballena Vista Farm's Tribal Rule, overhauled the top two inside the furlong pole and held off a fast finishing Llandudno to just prevail.—continued at www.santaanita.com, From Santa Anita Publicity

Big Macher Wins By A Schnoz

In a thrilling finish, California-bred Big Macher, with Tyler Baze aboard, prevailed by a nose over favored Wild Dude and Rafael Bejarano in Saturday's grade II, $200,000 Potrero Grande Stakes, covering 6 1/2 furlongs in 1:14.97.

Trained by Richard Baltas, who claimed the four-year-old Beau Genius gelding out of his debut nine starts back for $20,000 on July 17, Big Macher sat a close third behind fractions of :21.85, :44.25 and 1:08.50, wheeled three-wide turning for home, dispatched Cyclometer a sixteenth out and just managed to withstand the late charge of Wild Dude.—continued at www.santaanita.com, From Santa Anita Publicity

Uzziel Wires Field In Santa Paula

Longshot Uzziel took full advantage of her early speed and coasted to a stunning 42-1 front-end upset in Friday's $75,000 Santa Paula Stakes for three-year-old fillies, getting 6 1/2 furlongs in 1:17.19 while providing Tyler Baze with his third win on the afternoon.

Trained by Mike Puype and owned by her breeders, James and Tammy McKenney, Uzziel, a California-bred daughter of Harlington, won by a comfortable 2 1/4 lengths while besting eight rivals and providing the McKenney's with their first-ever stakes victory.

"This is our first-ever stakes win," said James McKenney.—continued at www.santaanita.com, From Santa Anita Publicity

The statistics contained in these rankings are compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems Inc. (TJCIS). While every effort is made to prevent errors and omissions, California Thoroughbred cannot guarantee their complete and total accuracy. A dagger (†) indicates that a stallion has been pensioned, an asterisk (*) that he has died, a dot (•) that he is now standing elsewhere, a number sign (#) that he did not stand in California in 2013 but is standing in the state in 2014, a double dagger (‡) that he is not standing in California in 2014 but will stand in the state in 2015 and in bold that he is a freshman sire. In all cases, a sire will remain in the rankings until the year after his last California foals are two-year-olds. Statistics cover racing in North America (U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico), England, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates only.

Graded Stakes Double For Ballena Vista

California-breds by Ballena Vista Farm sires Tribal Rule and Beau Genius captured both graded stakes at Santa Anita Park on April 12. In her first graded stakes effort, Tribal Rule's four-year-old filly Tribal Spy successfully stepped into open stakes company to win the grade III, $100,500 Las Cienegas Stakes on the hillside turf course, becoming the fifth graded winner for her sire who currently leads California's general sire list with earnings of $1.5 million.

Retired from stud following the 2009 breeding season, Beau Genius, now 29, is back in the headlines as the sire of Big Macher, a multiple stakes winner from his final crop. Winner of the California Cup Sprint January 25 at Santa Anita in his stakes debut, Big Macher was defeated just a half-length in the San Carlos (grade II) on March 8. Not to be denied victory in the $200,750 Potrero Grande (grade II), Big Macher charged three wide down the stretch, caught the pace setter with sixteenth to go and prevailed by a nose in a thrilling finish. Bred by Ballena Vista Farm out of the Kris S. mare Insight, Big Macher improved his record to 4-2-2 in 10 starts and increased his earnings to $316,428.—Ballena Vista Farm

Phyllis Lambert Passes At 67

Phyllis Lambert, who passed away from chronic obstructive pulmonary disease on March 27, 2014, was a fixture at California Thoroughbred sales since the late 1960s. But more than being a "fixture," she changed the way Thoroughbred sales, and hence the industry, employed women.

In 1973, she and (CTBA Past President) Leigh Ann Howard were hired by Rollin Baugh, of California Thoroughbred Consultants, to create at Hollywood Park anything necessary to conduct probably the most prestigious and most unprecedented Thoroughbred sale ever conducted in California up to that time. Fletcher Jones, of Westerly Stud Farm, had been killed in an airplane crash and all of his 140 horses were to be dispersed.

As Auction Sales Manager, Phyllis and her colleague, Leigh, were responsible for everything horse related for the Westerly Dispersal. The sale barns they were to use at Hollywood Park were a mud bog so truckloads of rock dust had to be dropped and leveled. Stall screens had to be borrowed, sand blasted, painted in Rollins' colors and, upon the closure of the sale, the exact same screens had to be re-sandblasted, painted in the original farm's colors and returned to the farm of origin. As some of the most prominent Thoroughbred owners in the world were to be present for this sale, the barn area had to look spectacular. Flowers, tanbark, canopies, railroad ties, valance, signature sales, uniforms, you name it. For a California horse sale, such an embellishment had not been done before. And when the buyers came to see the Westerly horses, it was an all-female crew that did the showing of the horses. For such a prominent sale to have an all-female show crew was unheard of in 1973. Typecast, the star of the performance, was sold for a world record for a race horse at auction for $725,000, and ultimately went to Japan.

Thus, started Phyllis' long career in auction sales. Shortly before her death she said, "I love horse sales. I have dreams about them almost every night." In one sale, she had 205 horses in a major dispersal. This required about 50 employees hired ahead of time but only 20 showed up. "I was crazy that sale. You like to think that as the person in charge, you know everything that is happening with everyone. But it was pretty hard to do at that sale, as some of the yearlings had very limited handling, were not broken to lead and had never been in a stall."

In addition to the Westerly dispersal, she handled the dispersals of George Pope, J. J. Elmore, Alan Clore, The Anvil, Donald Baldwin and others. One of the horses she was most proud of was Rainbow Quest, who later won the Arc de Triomphe and became a successful sire. She managed sales for Rollin at Fasig-Tipton Kentucky and Saratoga, as well as in California.

Ultimately, she left the auction sales field and bought her own farm,

Phyllis Lambert with Zenyatta

Notjustanother Horse Farm, in Chino, where she specialized in layups and sales prep. No one was more skilled than Phyllis at getting a horse beautifully prepared for a sale. Additionally, she bred and raised a few horses of her own. She rescued unwanted horses and cared for them until their human death. Two of the last three horses Phyllis owned were rescue horses. With Phyllis, horses and their well-being come first. Always.

Phyllis' love of horses started at age three when her grandmother put her on a pony for the first time. She was gainfully employed by the age of 11 when she cleared stalls and saddled horses six days a week in exchange for two riding lessons. At 13, she went to the Glory Ranch, home of the palomino Rose Parade leader, Top Hat. Later she worked with Roy Register training Saddlebreds and fine harness horses. For several years she worked at Rancho Jonata for Dr. James Buell where she did almost everything having to do with the horses. Horses were her life from age 11 and until her death at 67.

One of Phyllis' most outstanding qualities was her ability to assess a horse quickly and accurately. Had she been a track veterinarian, she would have been one of the best. But it was her love of animals that endeared her to people who were truly attached to their equines. She would go down a shed row, look at a horse and say, "I know that horse. I sold her two years ago in the January Sale. Come here, Sweet Thing," and over the horse would come. It seems like she knew and remembered every horse she had ever sold. But she also worked with the difficult horses. If a challenging horse came into a sale, Phyllis was the one who took that horse in hand. She did not ask her employees to do anything she had not done or would not do herself.

As evidence of her skill with horses and her ability to work with her staff, she had many former employees who went onto other horse connected careers. They wrote books about horse care and training, won the Kentucky Derby, trained show horses for major events, become a Thoroughbred agent, managed the stable for a major Thoroughbred auction company, trained a Horse of the Year, became a well-known endurance rider, rode in the Rose Parade and won a major Three Day Event off a horse that cost $300.

Phyllis is survived by a legion of human and non-human friends and admirers, as well as her two Jack Russells, Landy (Landaluce) and Rags (Rags to Riches), who are looking for a new home.

Her favorite horse that she bred herself is seven-year-old Portfolio, who, in the past year, has started 17 times and been in the money 16 of those. Interestingly, almost to the minute of Phyllis' death, Portfolio was beaten a next for first money. Portfolio, like her breeder Phyllis, never ran a bad race.—By Wendy Averill

CHRB Seeks Harsh 'Buzzer' Penalties

The California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) is moving to adopt strict penalties for riders using electrical devices in races or workouts. In the interim, Executive Director Rick Baedeker has issued a directive for CHRB investigators to refer any such cases directly to the racing commissioners for hearings and also to notify the local District Attorney for possible criminal prosecution.

CHRB Rule 1890(c) "prohibits any person from having in his possession on the premises [including auxiliary stabling and training facilities] during any recognized meeting any electrical stimulating or shocking device commonly referred to as a battery, or any mechanical stimulating device, or any other appliance, which might affect the speed or actions of a horse." ## Racing Exempt In Wagering Bill

Legislation has been introduced in Congress to amend the 1961 Federal Wire Act to ban all forms of interstate wagering except horse racing.

The bill, named the Restoration of America's Wire Act (H.R. 4301), was introduced by Congressman Jason Chaffetz (R-UT) and Senator Lindsay Graham (R-SC) (S. 2159). The legislation would amend the Federal Wire Act, the 1961 federal law that prohibits interstate wagering, to prohibit interstate Internet gaming. ## Statement From Vessels Stallion Farm

"The Vessels Ranch property has been listed for sale with Sotheby's International Realty in association with Equestrian Real Estate. The property consists of 1,390 acres and includes the approximately 275 acres on which the Vessels Stallion Farm operation is sited.

The Vessels Ranch property is extremely valuable due to its overall size and location within ten miles of the Pacific Ocean in the county of San Diego, California. The upland portions of the property above the horse facilities have excellent residential development potential. It has been determined that it is in the best interests of the family to seek to realize the value of this property now rather than continuing to hold it for investment.

This news does not mean the end of Vessels Stallion Farm. We remain open for business and presently have over 260 horses boarded at the Farm. It would not be unusual for a property of this magnitude to take an extended period of time to sell. Moreover, any sale transaction will have to allow several additional months for an orderly winding down of our use of the existing equine facilities and the relocation of our horses and those of our clients.

It is impossible for us to discuss this property without thinking of Scoop Vessels. He had known and often said that there would come a time when this land would become too valuable to remain undeveloped, and that when that time came Vessels Stallion Farm would move to a more economical location. He viewed this as a natural progression much like his family's history with the Los Alamitos Race Course property. We feel confident that Scoop would agree that now is the time.

Vessels Stallion Farm looks forward to continuing as an active participant in the horse industry. Vessels Stallion Farm LLC is owned by a trust for the benefit of Scoop Vessels' sons Kash and Colt. While we plan to maintain our current level of industry participation over the next few years, over the long term it will of course be up to Kash and Colt to determine the extent of their future in the horse business." ## Stanislaus County Pilot Project For At-Risk Youth "Stable Kids"

Healing Arenas, Inc., a new and diversified non-profit has partnered with the Stanislaus County Office of Education in a pilot project for the county's at-risk youth. Entitled "Stable Kids", the initiative pairs EAGALA certified mental health professionals and equine specialists with retired racehorses to serve youth who are facing emotional and behavioral challenges; announced by Julie Baker, founder and President of the non-profit.

The Healing Arenas, Inc. mission is to "support emotional healing through equine interaction and provide safe and restorative homes for retired racehorses" is realized through all their programming. HA (www.healingarenas.org) is the first program in the country to utilize retired racehorses sponsored by the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation for the emotional healing of youth. The Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation was established 30 years ago to save retired racehorses from neglect and abuse (www.trfinc.org).

The "Stable Kids" project benefits both horse and human, much like another project offered by HA, Second Chances California (www.trfsecondchances.org). SCC offers EAGALA personal growth and development services, as well as a vocational program to teach new life skills to probationers for their re-entry into society after incarceration. EAGALA (the Equine Assisted Growth and Learning Association) is a nonprofit 501(c)3 organization developed in 1999 to address the need for resources, education and professionalism in the fields of Equine Assisted Psychotherapy and Equine Assisted Learning (www.eagala.org). With over 4000 members in 49 countries, the association has set the standard for professional excellence in how horses and humans work together to improve the quality of life and mental health of individuals, families and groups worldwide.

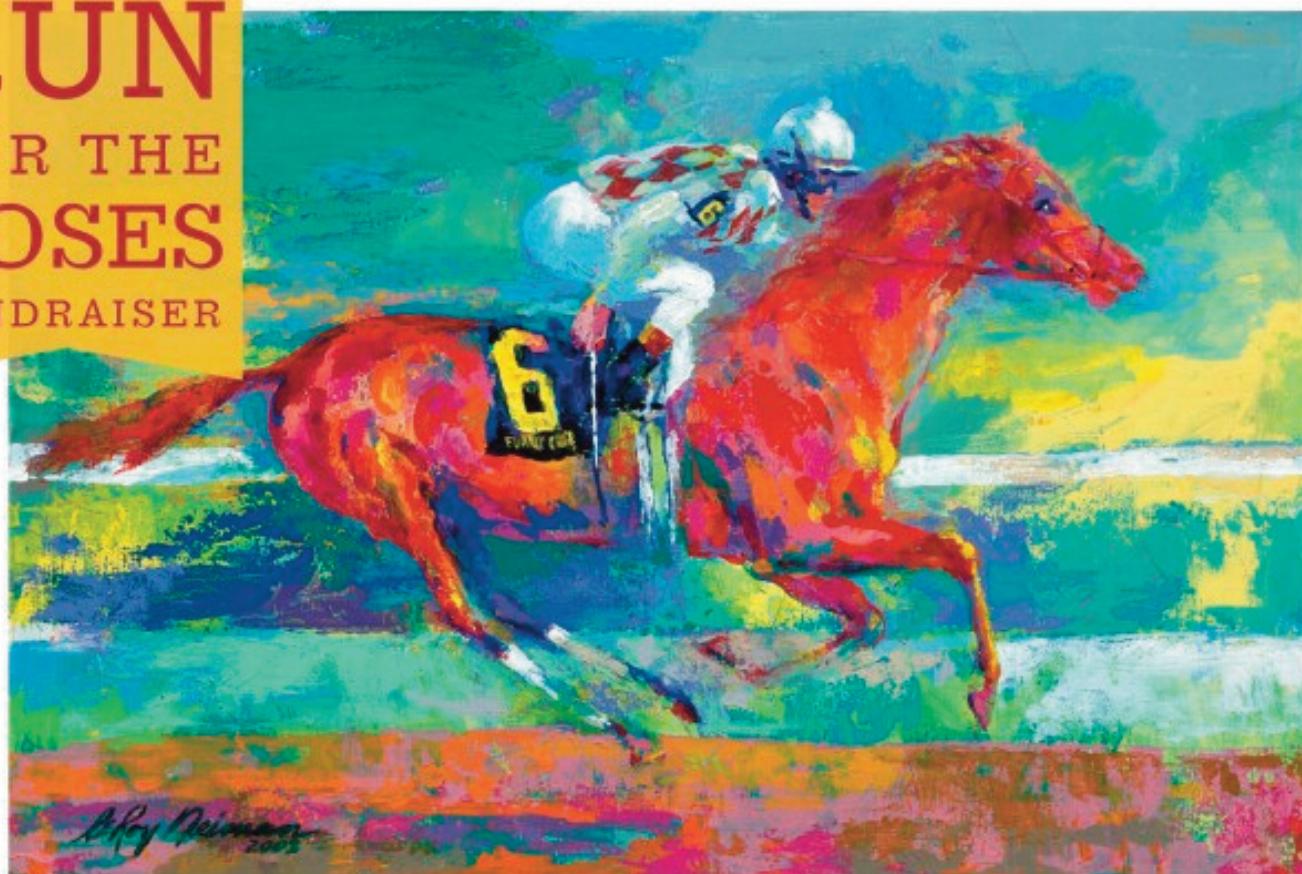

"We're working with Healing Arenas to help our students who are facing personal challenges," said Victor Serrato, Director of Student Support Services at the Stanislaus County Office of Education. "We are looking forward to seeing positive personal and educational outcomes."

Hosted by Diamond Bar Arena, owners Shane and Kim Parson are highly involved in local community activities and have generously donated a space at their ranch for services. "It's only through partnerships with the community, the Office of Education, the TRF and EAGALA that these projects can exist. We thank everyone tremendously for their support" emphasizes Baker.—Second Chances CA 2ndchancescalifornia@gmail.com

Warm Temperatures And Water Consumption

The transition in temperature and humidity from cool season to warm season, like winter to spring, could require an adjustment in watering horses. Reduced water consumption can impair performance and increase the risk of impaction colic. Also, horses that are not conditioned properly could sweat more profusely than a well-conditioned horse, and thus dehydrate faster. This is particularly important early in the season when temperatures change suddenly and horses might not yet be in peak condition.

The first key element is to make certain that horses have ready access to clean, palatable, cool water at all times or at very frequent intervals. The transition in temperature and humidity from cool season to warm season, like winter to spring, could require an adjustment in watering horses. Reduced water consumption can impair performance and increase the risk of impaction colic.

CTBA Magazine Update

The May 2014 issue of California Thoroughbred, the official publication of the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association (CTBA), is now well into production and featured as this edition's cover story is a wrap-up of the impressive win by the three-year-old colt California Chrome, bred and owned in California by Perry Martin and Steve Coburn and by Harris Farms' Lucky Pulpit, in the grade I, $1,000,750 Santa Anita Derby at Santa Anita Park on April 5.

Besides this article, the latest magazine also includes an advertorial highlighting a group of six 2014 foals at Madera Thoroughbreds, as well as many other feature stories of interest, such as: an In Memoriam tribute to California-bred Bertrando, the 1993 Eclipse Champion Older Male whose stud career produced the earners of more than $45 million and included two leading sire titles in the Golden State; an editorial on the legendary Sunday Silence, the 1989 Eclipse Horse of the Year who was out of the grade II-winning Cal-bred mare Wishing Well; a CTBA Member Profile on Dennis "DJ" Johnston, the breeder of L. A. Weekend who won last year's $75,000 Phoenix Gold Cup Handicap; a preview of Barretts Sales & Racing's May Sale of Two-Year-Olds in Training that will be held in the Hinds Pavilion at Fairplex in Pomona on Monday, May 12; wrap-ups of the April 12 wins by the four-year-old Cal-breds Tribal Spy and Big Macher in Santa Anita's grade III, $100,500 Las Cienegas Stakes and grade II, $200,750 Potrero Grande Stakes, respectively; reviews of the respective stakes wins on the Santa Anita Derby program by Alert Bay and Rovenna in the $200,000 Echo Eddie Stakes and $200,250 Evening Jewel Stakes, as well the victory by fellow Cal-bred sophomore Uzziel in the $78,700 Santa Paula Stakes at the same Arcadia track on April 11; the latest chapter in our Cal-Bred Millionaires' Row series, featuring the 2006 gelding Amazombie who became the 58th locally bred runner to reach this plateau during his Eclipse Champion Male Sprinter campaign when he won the grade I, $1,363,500 Breeders' Cup Sprint at Churchill Downs in Kentucky on Nov. 5, 2011; an Another Man's Treasure article on the 1995 Cal-bred gelding Road to Slew, a grade II winner at the age of six and now a pony horse at Santa Anita for Taylor Houser; the latest chapter in our A Blast From The Past series which spotlights the 1958 Cal-bred Olden Times whose racing career was highlighted by wins in the 1962 San Juan Capistrano Handicap and 1964 Metropolitan Handicap and whose success at stud included his banner year of 1982, when he was the nation's leading sire of two-year-olds due to the exploits of his Eclipse champion Roving Boy; a Down On The Farm editorial that provides information about early pregnancy loss in mares; the annual California-Bred Incentive Awards section, including both an explanation of this lucrative program and listings of all the Breeder Awards and Stallion Awards recipients of 2013; and all the many other interesting and informative features, departments and columns that this publication's loyal readers look forward to every month.

So now is the time to secure valuable advertising space in this latest copy of California Thoroughbred, the monthly publication that remains the best medium for marketing Thoroughbred stallions, farms and businesses in the Golden State.
